It had been almost a week since Ben had come by and caught me off guard I had really thought this was all behind me and all of a sudden he shows up again. I never thought that he would show up at my house. I just found out in the last couple of days that my husband would be coming home for 14 days and that he would have to return to Iraq for another six months his units stay had been extended. After my husband arrived home about a week later I was really glad to see him I was expecting us to spend some time together but as it turned out it seemed all he wanted to do was spend time with his parents it should not have been a surprise because he's always been a mama's boy, we had sex 4 times while he was home and everytime we did I was disappointed it seemed once he was finished it was over no foreplay or anything exciting. I never once had an orgasm I asked him many times what was wrong and every time he would reply nothing and then he would ask why I was making a big deal out of it. He never even told on how I looked since I had been going to the fitness center. On his last full day at home he and his father went and played golf instead of spending it with me this upset me a lot. While they were gone I had to go to Walmart to pick up some things and get groceries after I got done shopping and had gone out to my car I was putting my things in the trunk when I sensed someone behind me, as I looked around Ben was standing there I almost jumped out of my skin, he said hey girl. I said WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE, my husband's home, he was smiling and said I know I seen the white boy I've been watching, how do you think I knew you was here. Then I said look I have to go someone is going to see us. Ben replied ok I understand but this is what we've gone do, you meet me tonight at midnight in the gazebo in your backyard understand I told him no!! there was no way he just smiled and said don't make it hard on me either and turned and left. On the drive home my stomach was doing flip flops, how could I do something like this my husband was home and he wanted me to meet him in our backyard. The whole afternoon I was in a very nervous state at times it seemed I couldn't even breathe, but had excited me like nothing before it was such an intoxicating thought, I had never dreamed of doing something like this. A little later my husband came home and informed me that we were going out to eat with his parents I thought this is just great his last night at home and we were going with his parents but not wanting to make a scene I didn't say anything. That whole afternoon all I could think about was the jester Ben had made I didn't understand why this had excited me so much. We got home around 8:30 my husband packed his things to leave the next morning, his flight was to leave at 7:00am, after he was packed he kissed me and said he was going to bed I told him I would be there in a minute it had only been about 10 minutes when I came to bed and my husband was already asleep I couldn't believe it his last night and he was asleep. As I looked at the clock it was only 10:30. I layed there for the next several minutes thinking about Ben and if he really had the nerve to show up or he was bluffing and the thoughts that went through my head had increasingly excited me I slipped out of bed and went and turned off the motion sensor lights on the house if he did show up I really didn't want them going off. When I went back to bed I layed there and thought about Ben and how he treated me I mean, he was the first to have sex with me outdoors, the first in my car, and the first in my living room he always made things exciting, unlike my husband, you always knew what he wanted and even though he wasn't an attractive man he did have a huge cock. As I layed there my body just kept getting more excited my stomach was churning my legs were shaking and I could hardly get my breath I couldn't believe I was considering doing this. The whole time my husband was lying there sleeping. About 11:15 I got up and quietly went to the dresser and picked out a blue satin negligee it wasn't see through and it came down to about mid thigh I slipped through the house and went to our master bathroom to take a bath as I took off my pjs I couldn't help but notice how swollen and hard my clit was and it appeared my lips were swollen also, I couldn't believe I was so excited, before I got in the bathtub I took the scissors and trimmed my pubic hair and shaved the lips to my pussy I thought I was going to have an orgasm as I shaved them. After all my husband wasn't going to see me there again. I took my bath I put on the negligee but didn't put on any panties I put on a little perfume and slipped back in the bedroom to make sure my husband was asleep I don't think he had even moved since he went to sleep. I went to the guest bedroom and got a blanket and started for the back door. As I opened the door the excitement was just overwhelming me being almost naked walking across our backyard towards the gazebo which was about 75 feet from our house. As I approached the gazebo I could see Ben standing there. He walked up to me and looked at me from head to toe and in a low tone said damn girl you look good, it was more than my husband had said to me since he had been home. Then Ben said your white boy husband asleep and I replied yes then he asked you fuck him tonight and I replied no, he then asked you saved that little pussy for me didn't you? his little dick want do will it? you want my big black dick don't you bitch? The whole time he was talking I was increasingly getting more excited. Ben came closer and asked how big my husband's dick was and when I didn't answer he asked how big is it bitch and I replied 5 or 6 inches and Ben said so you really want my black dick don't you and I replied softly yes. Ben took the blanket from me and layed it on the bench and started taking his clothes off while I watched him. Once he was undressed his cock was already hard and he walked over to me and started touching me through my negligee the whole time he was talking dirty to me saying yeah girl your little wimp white boy husband is in there asleep and you out here about to get fucked by this big black dick what would he think now girl as he talked to me I reached and took his cock in my hand and started stroking it he said yeah you can't wait can you girl. Ben couldn't help but notice my body shaking and said you really horny aint you. My whole body was shaking and my nipples were protruding through the fabric that covered them. Ben's hands had touched my whole upper body by this time but he had not touched me down there yet. Ben said this is exciting to you aint it girl you are about to get fucked in your backyard while your husband sleeps you want this don't you girl, now say it, so I replied softly yes. Then he said you want to suck my black dick before I fuck you don't you girl and again I said yes. Ben grabbed the blanket and spread it out on the floor, he came back over to me then and grabbed me around the waist and started to kiss me I stopped him and then I told him that I didn't have any panties on Ben smiled and said damn you little white married slut and put his hand under my negligee and onto my pussy as soon as he touched me I started to shake almost having an orgasm and Ben said damn I aint never felt a girl as wet as you he grabbed my negligee and pulled it over my head and stepped back to look at me, as he looked at me he said yeah you trimmed for me didn't you and I said yes, he asked you ever touched your pussy for your husband and I said no, then he said touch it for me let me see you touch that pussy my hand shakingly moved to my pussy as my breathing got heavier. As my hand touched my pussy I began to tremble I couldn't believe how wet I had become Ben kept telling me what to do so I played with my clit and rubbed my fingers through the lips for him. Finally he said now lay down right here so I layed on the blanket and Ben got down beside me with his cock close to my head and told me to suck on it as I sucked on it he played with my pussy fingering me with one then two fingers all of a sudden Ben rolled on top of me like he was going to fuck my face I kept sucking his cock until he pushed my legs wide apart and I felt his tongue on my pussy my hips squirmed and bucked against his face until I had the most powerful orgasm I ever had. Ben then rolled off me and turned around and pushed my legs apart and pushed my knees forward and said you watch while my dick goes in you he guided the tip of his cock to my pussy lips and all of a sudden plunged all the way in to the hilt he had never gone that deep before his balls slapped my ass cheeks everytime he plunged into me and the sensation was incredible he fucked me very hard talking dirty to me the whole time saying your little white husbands in there asleep and he dont know his pretty little white wife is out here getting fucked by a black man his cock felt so good inside me finally I felt him tense up and he exploded inside me and at the same time I had my second orgasm it seemed like he came for a long time afterward we both got dressed and then I gave Ben my new cell phone number I figured if my husband wasnt interested that I wasnt going to make him I then walked back inside with Bens come running down my leg&nbsp;and cleaned up and went to bed my husband had never moved.
